

SERC Summer Camp 2012

Bay Trekker: Potomac River Journey

Join an exciting journey of environmental exploration and student leadership. Setting out from SERC, campers will follow the Potomac River from its mountain headwaters in Shenandoah National Park downstream to the islands in the heart of the Chesapeake Bay.

Students will fully immerse themselves in the river's resources and environmental issues through camping, hiking, collecting scientific data, and sampling local culture. We'll explore the interconnectedness of life in the watershed and meet people who study, restore, and make their livelihoods from the river and Bay.

For details:
visit serc.si.edu/education
or contact
Camp Coordinator
Julia Elkin at 443.482.3611
elkinj@si.edu

WHO: students entering 9th-11th grade

WHEN: Sunday June 24– Friday June 29

WHERE: leaving from SERC, Edgewater, MD

COST: $600 (includes food, lodgings, activities)

Registration opens Feb 1, 2012